

RAMÓN TEBAR
CONDUCTOR

Having been appointed recently as new Principal Conductor and Music Director of the Valencia Orchestra for the next 4 years, Ramón Tebar is considered one of the leading Spanish conductors of his generation. He also holds positions such as: Palau de Les Arts Reina Sofia (Principal Guest Conductor since 2015); Florida Grand Opera (Music Director and Principal Conductor, since 2010, being the first Spanish conductor to be appointed Music Director of an American opera company); Palm Beach Symphony (Artistic Director since 2007); Opera Naples (Artistic Director since 2014), Santo Domingo Music Festival (2009 - 2015).

Acclaimed for his musical versatility, compelling interpretations and orchestra building skills, conductor Ramón Tebar's international reputation in both the opera and orchestral arenas continues to expand. Among the orchestras and opera companies he has conducted or will conduct are: Philharmonia Orchestra, Cincinnati Symphony, St. Petersburg Symphony, Moscow State Symphony, Malaysian Philharmonic, Orchestre de Rouen, Het Gelders Orkest, Bulgarian National Radio Symphony, Munich Radio Symphony, Prague Philharmonia, Spanish National Orchestra, Spanish Radio Television Orchestra, Barcelona Symphony Orchestra, Galicia Symphony Orchestra, Valencia Orchestra, and in theatres such as Teatro Regio di Torino, Teatro Regio di Parma, Cincinnati Opera, Teatro Colón (Buenos Aires), Wiener Staatsoper, Gran Teatre del Liceu, Royal Festival Hall, Kölner Philharmonie and Concertgebouw Amsterdam.

Ramón Tebar has been recognized with various honors and awards, including the Henry C. Clark Conductor of the Year Award by Florida Grand Opera in 2010 and 2013, The Miami Herald as "Top 20 under 40" and "100 españoles by Marca España". In 2014, he was bestowed the Cross of Officer of the Order of Mérito Civil in recognition of his cultural accomplishments by His Majesty, the King of Spain Felipe VI. Ramón Tebar has recorded for UNIVERSAL MUSIC and DECCA.